What are interactive videos in fashion marketing?

Interactive videos comes in and predicted to take place greater than ever before, over 80% from webs will be trafficked by videos which became an integral part in marketing strategies.

Capturing users attention for brands was difficult so, interactive videos came to make different and make it easy for the customer who watch those videos by answering questions, make a decision and knowing how the rest of the videos unfolds.

There are many benefits gets back to the brand from watching their interactive videos, as longer viewing times as greater engagement. (gilliland, 2017)

Here are some examples for some brands using interactive videos:

1- Mended Little Hearts

A heart disease charity for children called “Mended Little Hearts” makes an interactive video to show that by donating money how can we save lives and how lives can be transformed with those donations.
In the video they reflect a day from a child daily life which called “MAX” he is 11 years old, as we saw him firstly looking lost and lonely, then after some donations his life became a little brighter and gradually all the street was full of animals, toys and families.

So we can see it simple but actually it is emotive and effective, as we can see a small act can change a child’s life to better, once you go online and donate. (gilliland, 2017)

2- Honda

In this videos “Honda” show here new type of civic “R” so, it makes a videos to show cased other side of reliable brand.

So Honda creates a video that gives the viewers the flexibility to switch between two storylines one for a father picking his daughter from school to give her a drive to her party and by pressing “R” key they go to the other story with a father that works undercover cop by night.

By this video, the viewer experience changed his experience from a passive to an active one. As a result of that the viewers will be more engaged and increasing audiences with all kinds of people in the future. (gilliland, 2017)

3- Maybelline New York

Maybelline takes the step to make an interactive tutorial video for “big eye mascara’, so, in the video Maybelline agreed with “Kelly framer” a popular fashion blogger to make four different looks from the same product “a core product” through this tutorial.

The video shows that how interactive videos increase conversion by allowing the viewers to swipe different beauty tutorials by choosing between different styles such as “day, night, club Tropicana and rebel chic”.

As result of that are interactive videos can have a prompt response from viewers and as we know that shopping for beauty

4- David Jones – Virtual Runway

Picked by: Aleksandra Harsic, Commercial Director, Global

David Jones makes a great live event in spite of the pandemic “Corona Virus” which was held in Australia. He was able to bring the catwalk right to every doorstep with a virtual runway.

Powered by VUDOO he used interactive videos technology to make this virtual fashion event.

The video gave the audiences front rows seats typically like the real one while they are staying on their own home. It also gave them the chance to make shopping of the latest fashion trends in its time by using “pulse hotspots”….

So, David Jones gave the chance to the consumers to take fashion straight from the runway to the streets without need to write down the name of a favorite style again. (vudoo, 2021)
So, we can briefly say that interactive videos are videos which allow viewers or audiences to make an action and interact with the video.

What are Interactive Videos Used For?

Brands around the world are using largely interactive videos for marketing and entertainment purposes.

Here, we outline the main purposes of interactive videos:-

1- Product Marketing

As we know the main purpose to use interactive videos is to market a product or provide a service, as it plays a role in mixing some features and mechanics to show the product to the consumer.

Adding new elements of excitement and inclusion is the reason behind an effective interactive video as it makes the consumers feel closer to the product and interact more with it. (Cinema8, 2020)

3- Raising Awareness

Interactive videos make it easier to consumer to get the message sent across the brand, as we live in consumer’s world so; raising awareness and public service announcements is also one of the brand purposes.

Raising awareness can be used to educate the viewer and make sure that they can relate and engage with the brand and issues on an emotional level. (Cinema8, 2020)
4- E-learning

E-learning is an online educational way that helps the consumer or viewer to know how interactive videos or standard videos work in simple and easy way by using interactive features to plant easily into the consumers memory. (Cinema8, 2020)
5- User Experience

Enhancing the user experience of consumer is another way that interactive videos can use through visiting the brand website.

User experience is a name given to the customer that have an overall experience with your brand, by visiting websites, making a product order, delivery and also customer service. All of that is a part of a user experience.

Most of the fashion brands are using interactive videos as a way to strengthen user experience and to make the use of their websites easier, as an example a women walking wearing these brands which allows the viewers to click on the garment to watch its details such as price or a link to purchase. This way shorten the sales process and make customer life much easier. (Cinema8, 2020)

6- Entertainment

Interactive videos also have an entertainment value to let the viewer be enjoyed while watching these videos. If we do it in right way, interactive videos will be creatively amazing (Cinema8, 2020)

Using fun videos playing an important role for effective learning as you can choose how you can want to go through the content even by sticking to the main message or by looking at the other side of the topic. So, interactive videos are rich and can easily make viewers interact with the content.

Prepared videos for the entertainment industry are interesting. Stories that are based on characters attract the attention of viewers, once they get the upper hand they can’t wait to see what is coming next.

Interactive videos can be used in the entertainment industry to make more innovations, deliver more experiences and creating effective marketing strategies. (Cinema8, 2020)
